

Welsh Family History Packages

Combining the services of Mr Greg Howes, specialising in Welsh Family History & Mrs Lisa Woodward, providing Five Star Accommodation.

The lessons take place at Ty Menyn and are written and tutored by Greg Howes, a genealogist and local historian who has researched, written and presented family history programs for the BBC featuring stars such as Micheal York, Pam Ferris, Paul Daniels and Christopher Timothy. Greg is also a resident Family genealogist in ITV's 'Family Detectives' and has been the resident local history teacher for the local council, teaching family history in local community centres and archives. Greg is able to carry out family history packages for England & Wales in the medium of English.

What do you get out of it?

Greg specialises in family History for beginners. You will receive 2 to 3 hours of private one to one tuition, given to any person or family who want to explore their family history or Surname further. Using mainly online sites and resources, a step by step guidance in every aspect of Genealogy and family History will be explored. The lessons are tailor made for the beginner but all levels can be explored in detail. In most cases it is advisable that you come armed with as much information as possible as this may enable you to have more fruitful results. In some circumstances it may be necessary to obtain certificates in advance of your booking, fees for this will be applicable. All endeavours will be made to either find your ancestors or teach you how to do it.
